

Hauppauge, New York - BOSS Facility Services, Inc. Settles into its new Corporate HQ

BOSS Facility Services, has spent the last 72 hours meticulously moving from its former 7,500 sq ft office into its new 31,000 sq ft facility. BOSS FSI who specializes in facility maintenance, management and construction has invested over $5 million dollars to purchase and renovate the 31,000-square-foot building at 60 Adams Ave in Hauppauge.

BOSS' services include HVAC, Plumbing, Electrical, Janitorial, Handyman, Lighting, Special Projects, Roll outs, Refreshes, Build outs, Pop ups shops, Shop in Shops, Temporary Locations, etc. throughout the US for multiple vertical markets such as the Retail sector, Restaurants, Financial institutions, Convenience Stores, and Offices/Corporate environments.

The move to Hauppauge will allow the company to more than double its current workforce while keeping its roots firmly planted on Long Island. The Hauppauge expansion has allowed the firm to establish a new state of the art training facility that will focus on providing employment opportunities for Suffolk County veterans and other individuals having difficulty finding employment.

Keith Keingstein, president of Boss Facility Services, said that the move to the state-of-the-art facility will allow us to not only train new talent but allow us to be competitive in an already difficult labor market. The facility boasts over 24 65" LED screens, leading edge technology, a 40-person training facility, 5 conference rooms and enough room for future expansion.

BOSS is a family affair and Hauppauge holds a special place in the Keingstein's hearts. The kids (Keith, Kerri and Kevin) were born and raised here. We find it especially special to know that after 18 years in business we are coming home. Hauppauge is not only a great place to live but a great place for business. The timing of the purchase cannot have been better, there is a newfound energy in the Hauppauge Industrial Park and we are excited to be back.
